How to activate your AERA login:

1. Go to www.aera.net
2. Click on “Login” at the top of the webpage.
3. In the “Search for or Create a New Account,” click on “Activate or Create My Account.”
4. You are now on the Activation webpage. There are two ways to activate your account.

Option 1: Provide your AERA member number, first name, and last name and click “Next.” This option will bring you to a webpage where you can create your login and password. Please keep a record of this information. Once a login and password has been created, click “Next” and it will bring you to your “Member Webpage” You have successfully logged on.

Option 2: Provide your email address. Once you have entered your email address, you will be sent to an Activation webpage. Once the forms are complete, click “Submit” and it will bring you to your “Member Webpage” You have successfully logged on.

(If you do not have any of this information, please contact the AERA Membership Department at members@aera.net.)

Step One: Go to www.aera.net
Step Two: Click on “Login” at the top of the webpage.

Step Three: You are now on the Activation webpage. There are two ways to activate your account.
Option 1: Provide your AERA member number, first name, and last name.
Option 2: Provide the email address registered with AERA.
(If you do not have any of this information, please contact the AERA Membership Department at members@aera.net.)
Option #1: This option will bring you to a webpage where you can create your login and password. Please keep a record of this information. Once a login and password has been created, click “Next” and it will bring you to your “Member Webpage” You have successfully logged on.

Option 2: Provide your email address. Once you have entered your email address, you will be sent to an Activation webpage. Once the forms are complete, click “Submit” and it will bring you to your “Member Webpage” You have successfully logged on.